DECEMBER

Counselor's Corner Whiteford Elementary

December is a wonderful time to pause, reflect, and check in with how we're feeling. This month, our classroom counseling lessons will focus on managing our emotions—helping students recognize their feelings, understand what those feelings tell us, and practice healthy ways to cope. As we move through a busy and exciting season, these skills support students in staying calm, connected, and confident at school and at home.

TIPS TO BUILD EMOTIONAL RESILIENCE IN KIDS

Spend quality time with kids. When they feel loved and supported, children develop emotional strength.

Talk about feelings so your child learns to share their worries and fears with people they trust.

Instead of rushing to solve problems, give kids time to work things out themselves.

When children experience failure or disappointment, it's important to praise their effort and encourage them to try again.

Acknowledge your own mistakes to teach kids that mistakes are essential for learning and growth.

If your child can't find a solution to a problem, use gentle questioning to guide them towards it.

Ensure kids are eating well and getting enough sleep and exercise.

Positive Self-Talk

I always end my lessons with a positive affirmation for the kids to say. Positive affirmations bring huge benefits for children, from boosting confidence to enhancing their ability to empathize with their peers.

Celebrating Togetherness

The holiday season is a time to come together and celebrate with family and friends. Encourage your child to think about how they can contribute to a positive and joyful atmosphere at home and at school. Whether it's helping with holiday preparations or participating in family traditions, there are many ways to spread joy and kindness during this time of year.
